

By using the Musician Referral Service you are agreeing to the following terms:

The Musician Referral Service is not a booking agency. We do not handle musician calendars or schedules, and we do not enter into contractual agreements on behalf of students. The service is for the purposes of referral only. By using this service neither you nor the Butler School of Music are entering into any legal contract for services.

When you submit a request for musicians for an event, the referral service will work with students at the Butler School of Music. If an available student or group is found, the student will be put in contact with you. The Butler School of Music makes no claim or promise regarding availability of musicians. In most cases we are able to fill your requests, however, we are not obligated in any way to do so.

Once a musician has contacted you, all further negotiations and agreements are between you and the musician directly. The Butler School of Music does not enter into agreements with clients, or arrange or negotiate agreements between clients and students. If a dispute arises between musicians and clients, those disputes are the sole responsibility of the two parties. The Butler School of Music is not liable in any way for financial or other disputes with musicians that we refer. We strive to put only our best and most talented students into the community on our behalf. However if issues arise, they must be handled directly between the two parties. The Butler School of Music may at its discretion enter in to negotiations on behalf of a musician. However it is not obligated in any way to do so.

If you are requesting a referral for private instruction, once we receive your request, we will send a list of students who teach the instrument you requested, and their contact information to the email you provided us at the time you signed up. We will do everything we can to match your request, however, our student body changes frequently, and we do not always have students who teach every instrument at all times.

We collect certain information from you when you sign up for the service, including name, valid email, and phone number. This information is required, and by using this service, you agree to allow us to use the information as follows: We use this information to contact you regarding your specific request. Some of this information may be used for evaluative purposes inside our office. You may be contacted by phone or email from the outreach office of the Butler School of Music directly. Your information will also be given directly to the musicians whom we match with your request, so that they can contact you directly. We will never release your information to other parties inside or outside the Butler School of Music, or UT Austin. We may from time to time send you emails after your event to request feedback on our service, and from time to time we may email you important information regarding changes to our service. We will never email you solicitations for business or promotional material of any kind. We will never put you on an email or call list. Your information will be held exclusively in the outreach office of the Butler School of Music. It will never be shared or sold to outside parties, and it won't be added to other lists within the School of Music or UT Austin.

Although use of this service does not enter you into any contractual obligation to use our musicians, requests that are repeatedly withdrawn may be considered abuse of our site, and could result in your account being closed. If you in any way harass or abuse musicians, you may lose the right to use the Referral Service.

By signing up for this service we are granting you the right to access our website. This access is granted solely to you, and solely for the purposes of requesting Butler School of Music musicians for hire. Use of your account for any other purpose is prohibited. You may not share your log-in information with other people. If you attempt to use your account with the Referral Service to gain other access to our site, cause damage to our site, or use our site as a conduit for any other activity, we will close your account, and if warranted, pursue our legal rights.

We reserve the right to suspend, cancel or alter this service at anytime.

By using our service, you are agreeing to the above terms. If you do not agree to the terms, please contact our office and request to be removed:
outreach@mail.music.utexas.edu