The Sarah and Ernest Butler School of Music The University of Texas at Austin Announces a Faculty Position in Organ Performance Fall 2012

RANK AND SALARY: Position is offered at the rank of Associate or Full Professor depending on the qualifications of the candidate. Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience.

QUALIFICATIONS: Candidate must have proven track record of excellence as organ performer and teacher with a doctorate or equivalent in professional experience. Applicants with successful teaching experience at the university or conservatory level are preferred.

RESPONSIBILITIES: Coordinate the organ and sacred music program in the Keyboard Division. Teach applied organ, improvisation, service playing, organ literature and other related courses as necessary. Manage the Center for Sacred Music, including the Great Organ Series of concerts, sacred music workshops and other special events. Recruitment of talented students is essential. As a tenured faculty member, the successful candidate is expected to be involved in professional activities commensurate with Tier I research university expectations.

APPLICATION SCHEDULE: Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until a successful candidate is named. Applications should include a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, and at least three names of referees with their contact information, including address, telephone, and email. Applicants are encouraged to send these materials via e-mail as attachments in .doc, .rtf, or .pdf format to: facultysearch@mail.music.utexas.edu. Please do not send other supporting materials until requested by the Search Committee. Applications that are submitted as hard copy should be addressed to:

B. Glenn Chandler, Director Butler School of Music (Organ Search) The University of Texas at Austin 1 University Station, E3100 Austin, TX 78712-0435

All applications will receive equal consideration whether submitted electronically or in hard copy. For express delivery, our street address is 25th and Robert Dedman Drive. In accordance with university policy this is a security sensitive position; a background check will be conducted on the selected candidate.

THE BUTLER SCHOOL OF MUSIC, housed in the College of Fine Arts, comprised of some 100 music faculty and more than 700 music students. It has consistently maintained an outstanding reputation for its performance and academic programs. The University of Texas at Austin ranks among the finest universities in the country, and as one of the finest universities in the country, it provides many opportunities for faculty and student support. For more information about the School of Music, its faculty and the University, see http://www.music.utexas.edu. The University of Texas at Austin is an AA/EEO employer.